there's still time to qualify for the 2018 wellness credit

human energy. yours.™

The 2018 Wellness Credit is a premium reduction of up to $750 annually on qualifying Chevron-sponsored medical plan coverage premiums from January 1, 2018 through December 31, 2018. If the 2018 Chevron medical plan premiums \(intranet only\) with the Wellness Credit look appealing, there's still time to qualify for the 2018 Wellness Credit to receive those reduced premiums. Many of the activities require advance scheduling and time to complete, but you still have time to accumulate the required 1,000 points before the deadline if you act now.

Important: During open enrollment, the Benefits Connection enrollment website will only display the full medical premium, even if you've already earned the required points. In addition, the row for the Wellness Credit will display as "Waive coverage — not eligible." When the Wellness Credit period closes, WebMD will automatically verify your points completion with the HR Service Center later this year. If it's verified that you qualified for the medical premium reduction, you'll receive an updated confirmation of elections that reflects the monthly amount your medical premium will be reduced. The Benefits Connection website will also be updated.

how it works

- Go to the Health Rewards section on hr2.chevron.com/wellness.
- View the list of qualifying healthy activities and follow the instructions provided to complete the ones that interest you.
- Each time you complete (and report) a qualifying activity, you'll earn points. Earn 1,000 points by October 27, 2017 to qualify for the 2018 Wellness Credit.

Go to the Health Rewards information online for complete eligibility rules and learn more about the Wellness Credit.

check your points

The WebMD Healthy Heart Program website tracks your activity completion and points, including access to some of the health tools you can use to earn points. To see your points progress or report completion of an activity, access your WebMD Healthy Heart program website account, then click Rewards from the top navigation. Automatic login is available from a computer connected to the Chevron intranet.
