introduction

Chevron has designed the U.S. Domestic Relocation program (Relocation program) to provide financial assistance, professional services and administrative support for you and your family during your relocation.

Please familiarize yourself with the provisions outlined in this Relocation program guide. As personal circumstances vary, these benefits may not cover all your relocation expenses or needs. It is not the intent of the program to provide for all costs that you may incur as a result of your relocation. The relocation benefits provided by Chevron are limited to those outlined in this Relocation program guide.

This guide does not constitute a contractual agreement, either formal or implied, between you and the company. Interpretation of eligibility and policy application remain with the company. The company may eliminate, add provisions or modify the Relocation program at any time without notice to employees who have been given this information.

Chevron's U.S. Relocation programs are administered by HR Shared Services. Total Rewards Mobility COE is solely responsible for the administration of the program; including but not limited to, eligibility criteria, benefit determinations, exception management and supplier selection.

Below you'll find a list of key terms used throughout this guide.

Amended Value Sale	An accepted purchase offer from a buyer, after you've been presented your guaranteed offer from the company.
Bridge Loan	A short-term equity loan provided if you need funds to close on your new primary residence purchase prior to the sale of your current primary residence.
Broker Market Analysis (BMA)	A written report and housing market analysis, prepared by a real estate agent, comparing your home to similar homes that are currently listed and recently sold in your area.
Buyer Value Option (BVO)	An accepted purchase offer from a buyer made before you've been presented your guaranteed offer from the company.
Guaranteed Buyout Offer	An offer from the company to purchase your current home based on the average of your relocation appraisals.
Home Finding Services	Comprehensive assistance to help you find a new primary residence to purchase or rent in your new work location.
Loss on Sale Assistance (LOS)	If your home sells for less than your original purchase price and you qualify for the home sale loss assistance program, Chevron will provide you with 95 percent of your qualifying LOS up to the program maximum.
Home Sale Program	Comprehensive assistance to help you sell your primary residence at your current work location, including payment of normal non-recurring home sale closing costs and Realtor fees.
Closing Disclosure Statement	A document provided by the title/escrow company at the time of a real estate sale that details seller and purchaser transaction costs.
Primary Residence	The rented or owned dwelling where you (and your eligible family) currently reside full time, within reasonable daily commuting distance of your work location, and identified as your principal residence for IRS tax reporting. If you currently reside in a personal choice location (PCL) that is recognized by the company as being the result of an international rotational assignment, please seek further guidance from your SIRVA BGRS consultant.
Relocation Allowance Lump Sum	A one-time payment made to you to offset the anticipated costs of your house-hunting trip, temporary housing, return trips, and final travel between your current work location and your new work location.
Self-Close	A home sale that is obtained and negotiated by you without utilizing the Home Sale Program.
Shared Ownership	Having anyone other than a spouse or registered domestic partner on the deed to your primary residence.
Short Sale	A home sale in which you negotiate with your lender to sell your home to a buyer for less than the current mortgage balance.

administration

Chevron has partnered with SIRVA BGRS to administer this program and coordinate your relocation benefits. Although SIRVA BGRS is the program administrator, final benefit determination remains with Chevron Total Rewards Mobility COE.

You'll initiate services with SIRVA BGRS after you accept your job offer. Your HR business partner must approve your relocation. Your SIRVA BGRS relocation consultant will contact you within 24 hours after your relocation is approved to schedule a program introduction. The consultant will work closely with you and your family to coordinate all aspects of your relocation. You're encouraged to read this document thoroughly and address questions with your relocation consultant. You cannot begin using any relocation benefits until you are within 30 days of your transfer date.

Don't contact any real estate agents, in either your current or your new location, until you've been contacted by your relocation consultant. Certain relocation benefits may be forfeited if this guidance isn't followed.

You're responsible for any expenses that are outside the parameters of the Relocation program, or those that have not been approved in advance of being incurred.

tax definitions

The following are tax terms that are used in the Chevron Relocation program and their corresponding definition:

Tax Assistance	A payment made by Chevron to offset your tax withholding on certain benefits. Also known as gross-up .
Tax Withholding	A deduction from your pay for the taxes on certain relocation benefits made to the appropriate taxing authorities.

eligibility

Employee eligibility

You must be a current full-time exempt U.S. payroll employee, relocating at company request, to a position offering relocation assistance. If you request a job transfer or accept a position for which relocation assistance is not offered, you're not eligible for this Relocation program.

Dependent eligibility

The Relocation program applies to your spouse or registered domestic partner. For purposes of this

Relocation program, your eligible family is defined as your children and close relatives who meet all the following requirements:

- Live with you when you're notified of your transfer.
- Will live with you at your new primary residence.
- Qualifies as a dependent, defined by Internal Revenue Service (IRS) guidelines.
- Is financially dependent upon you and are claimed by you on your Federal tax return for the year prior to your relocation.

If your spouse/registered domestic partner is also a Chevron employee, and you're both being transferred, only one relocation benefit package is provided.

The Relocation program doesn't include any expenses for relocating domestic staff.

Relocation program eligibility requirements

Relocation benefits are provided by Chevron to ensure that you reside within a reasonable daily commuting distance of your primary work location and your relocation must result in a change of your primary residence. You must relocate to the metropolitan area of your primary work location, or within 50 miles; whichever is less.

Eligibility for the Chevron Relocation program is subject to the following requirements:

- The distance over the shortest, most commonly traveled route from your old home to your new principal work location must be at least 50 miles farther than from your old home to your old principal place of work.
- You must complete your relocation within one year of your payroll transfer date to your new work location.
- Please note that in certain circumstances Chevron may require you to complete the use of your relocation benefits in less than 12 months.

You're expected to locate centrally within metropolitan areas where Chevron has more than one facility. In these areas, should your office location change, you're ineligible for the Relocation program in the future, even if the 50-mile distance test is met.

repayment agreement

You're required to sign a Repayment Agreement prior to receiving any relocation benefits. Your relocation consultant will provide you the Repayment Agreement to sign and return.

If you voluntarily terminate your employment with Chevron, or if you are terminated for cause by Chevron, within one year of your payroll transfer date, your relocation benefits will cease, and you're required to repay any relocation benefits paid to you or others on your behalf.

Additionally, if you receive any relocation benefits and subsequently do not transfer, you must repay the full amount, including your relocation allowances.

exceptions

Many aspects of your relocation are personal and specific to you. The program cannot anticipate every personal circumstance and doesn't provide specific assistance for all situations. The Miscellaneous Expense Allowance (MEA) is provided to assist with costs not provided for elsewhere in the Relocation program. In general, exceptions to policy are only approved in limited and extraordinary circumstances.

Any requests for exceptions to the Relocation program require a written business case sent to your relocation consultant who will administer your exception request. Final approval authority for all exceptions belongs to Chevron's Global Relocation Manager and the General Manager of Human Resources Shared Services. Failure to follow this process may result in personal expense or inconvenience to you.

Chevron doesn't provide substitution or cash-equivalent payments for unused benefits or portions thereof.

expense administration

To receive reimbursement, you should engage your SIRVA BGRS representative, who will advise you of any required documentation. Expense claims should be submitted within 30 days of the expense having been incurred. It's your responsibility to provide a paid-in-full receipt and proof of payment, as well as any other requested documentation to validate your relocation expenses.

You must not use your Chevron corporate credit card to pay for any relocation expenses, nor process any relocation expenses (such as airfare, lodging or meals) in Chevron Travel and Expense (CTREX). Failure to follow this practice may result in unreported earnings and possible tax penalties to you and the company. Chevron will not assist with any penalties you may incur. Relocation payments cannot be deferred once your effective payroll transfer date has passed.

taxes

Your relocation benefits, whether reimbursed directly to you or paid on your behalf, are taxable income and are added to your W-2 wages. Unless otherwise noted, Chevron provides tax assistance to offset some of the additional taxes you'll incur on your relocation benefits.

Tax Assistance/Gross-up, where applicable, is provided at the time of your reimbursement or when the payment is added to Chevron's payroll system. Each section of this program guide identifies if tax assistance is provided.

A year-end tax true-up analysis, based on your Chevron earnings, is completed in late November to determine if you qualify for any additional tax assistance, or if previously paid assistance should be reduced.

The tax section at the end of this program guide provides further details on the tax assistance process.

Neither Chevron nor SIRVA BGRS will advise you on your personal income taxes. If necessary, you should consult a professional tax advisor who is familiar with relocation tax rules.

other provisions

Home ownership

To be eligible for homeowner benefits, you must own your primary residence either individually or with your spouse or registered domestic partner. Your status as a homeowner is determined at the time you're first notified of your transfer.

You're considered a homeowner if you previously relocated and received home sale benefits through the Chevron Relocation program. Once you're considered a homeowner, you're eligible for future homeowner relocation benefits (once a homeowner, always a homeowner). You may be requested to provide documentation to validate your previous primary residence location and status as a homeowner.

Direct or indirect family benefit

You, or members of your immediate family, cannot directly or indirectly benefit financially by providing services paid for by Chevron. Chevron will not reimburse you, an immediate family member, or other relative for any services performed. This includes, but is not limited to, real estate services, inspections or repairs.

Leave of absence

If you're granted an unpaid leave of absence, your relocation benefits will change. Benefits you haven't yet received are suspended until you return from your leave of absence. Your relocation eligibility is paused while you're on an unpaid leave of absence. Upon return to work, your benefits resume, and you have the remaining duration of your eligibility to complete your relocation. If you resign from a leave of absence, you're required to repay Chevron for relocation benefits you received under the terms of the Repayment Agreement and based on the duration of your active employment.

benefits common to all employees

miscellaneous expense allowance

Your Miscellaneous Expense Allowance (MEA) is a one-time payment of one-and-one-half month's base salary, not to exceed $15,000, provided to assist you with relocation expenses not specifically provided for elsewhere in the Relocation program. The MEA is yours to be used at your discretion and receipts or pre-approval of expenses are not required.

Your MEA is paid in the first or second pay period after your payroll transfer date. You can request that SIRVA BGRS advance 60 percent of your MEA no sooner than 30 days prior to your payroll transfer date. If you request an advance payment, it is made as a direct deposit into your bank account. Payment cannot be made to banks outside the United States.

Examples of expenses that you can use your MEA for include, but are not limited to:

- Driver's license and vehicle registration fees.
- Rental vehicles, parking and tolls.
- Hotel and meal expenses for extra days in your current location after your household goods have been packed.
- Additional temporary housing or duplicate housing costs.
- Additional household goods services, weekend service, tips to movers, or storage over 60 days

- Additional pet transportation and kennel costs.

- Structural modifications to your residence to accommodate furnishings and appliances.
- Tax liability exceeding the tax assistance provided through the relocation program.

Your MEA is taxable income, and all applicable Federal taxes are withheld. If you're moving to a state with an income tax, Chevron will provide tax assistance for your state tax.

relocation lump sum allowance

You'll be provided with a Relocation Allowance to provide for home finding, temporary housing, return trip expenses, and final move travel. This provides you with the flexibility to manage these benefits at your discretion. Submission of receipts or pre-approval of expenses is not required.

- Your Relocation Allowance is based on your home ownership status, destination and departure locations, as well as family size.
- Your Relocation Allowance is paid in your first or second pay period after your payroll transfer date. You can request that SIRVA BGRS advance 90 percent of your Relocation Allowance no sooner than 30 days prior to your payroll transfer date. If you request an advance payment, it is made as a direct deposit into your bank account. Payment cannot be made to banks outside the United States.
- If you previously accepted the Home Retention Allowance within three years of your payroll transfer date and return to the same location, you're not eligible for a home-finding or temporary housing allowance.

Home finding

You're provided with assistance in finding a home at your new work location. Your relocation consultant will work with you in selecting an agent to help you find a home to purchase or rent. Don't contact a real estate agent or submit a purchase agreement on a house before you speak to your relocation consultant.

The calculation of your allowance for a home-finding trip is based on the following:

Expense Category	Homeowner	Renter
Lodging	six nights	three nights
Meals	seven days	four days

Transportation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mileage - if your new work location is less than 400 miles from your current location. • Airfare - if your new work location is 400 miles or more.

Before you take your home-finding trip it is recommended that you:

- Gather financial data needed for real estate applications.
- If you are planning to purchase a home, speak with at least one of Chevron’s preferred mortgage lenders to discuss your mortgage options, learn how much you can borrow, obtain rates and pre-qualify or be pre-approved for a mortgage.
- Review the “New Home Purchase Closing Costs” section of this guide to learn more about the home purchase costs that Chevron reimburses.

Note: You must work with a SIRVA BGRS approved real estate agent when you purchase your new home to be eligible for Loss on Sale Assistance (LOS), should you later sell that home through the Chevron Relocation program.

Temporary housing

Your temporary housing allowance begins the day after you arrive in your new location. Your allowance is based on 30 days of furnished corporate accommodations, plus a $500 set-up allowance. Your set-up allowance is provided to assist you with purchasing miscellaneous household items.

You should discuss your anticipated temporary housing needs with your relocation consultant. SIRVA BGRS can assist you with securing temporary housing.

Pre-Move Survey	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Your assigned mover will coordinate a time for a representative to visit your home, assess the size of your move, determine items requiring crating, and identify any potentially excludable items. Small shipments may be done by telephone interview.
Packing and Loading	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ensure that valuable items such as jewelry and cash are removed from your home or placed in a secure area. • If applicable, segregate items by destination. • Your packing crew will prepare an inventory as items are being packed. • Discuss any special handling needs with your driver and make additional comments as necessary on your inventory sheet. • Retain your copy of the inventory and bill of lading and have them at your new location. • If possible, for their safety and the safety of the crew, young children should not be present during the packing and loading of your goods. • Your assigned mover's representative will make a final decision on items requiring crating and if your vehicle(s) is loaded on the same truck as your household goods or shipped by a separate car carrier.

Your assigned mover is obligated to deliver your goods within the delivery spread. • Partial Delivery to Temporary Housing: You can have a partial delivery of goods to your temporary housing. If an item cannot be repaired, your assigned mover will reimburse you for the full replacement value for a comparable item. Please note that your mover is entitled to salvage rights for any item on which you're provided full replacement value. Your mover is responsible for deciding if an item can be repaired or replaced. • Climatic Damage and Derangement: Your household goods, shipped by the company or stored at company expense, aren't insured against damage deemed to be caused by climatic factors such as heat and humidity, mechanical derangement, electrical/electronic derangement or other forms of inherent vice. This includes items which don't appear to have been mishandled in transit; but for some unidentified reason don't function properly upon delivery. Your assigned mover won't confirm that goods such as televisions and other electronics are working at your original residence. The company isn't responsible for mechanical issues upon delivery where there is no evidence of transit-related damage found on the exterior of the item. Chevron won't pay for furniture hoisting for items that won't fit through a door casement or stairwell. • Remove any affixed items (such as window rods and treatments, lighting or ceiling fan fixtures or stereo system equipment), that aren't included in the sale of your home. You'll need to replace affixed items that you remove with others of similar quality.

relocation adjustment allowance (RAA)

If you are moving to a new work location where the cost of living is determined by Chevron's selected data provider to be higher than at your current work location, you will receive a Relocation Adjustment Allowance (RAA). Your RAA will be paid over a period of three years.

Chevron's selected provider, Motus, specializes in cost-of-living data, and uses gathered and statistical information on costs for:

- housing
- taxes
- transportation
- goods and services

Your RAA calculation is based upon your:

- origin work location
- Chevron base salary at origin
- family size
- status as a homeowner or renter

Your RAA eligibility analysis is completed after you accept your job offer, and you are approved for relocation assistance. It will not be updated for your future salary or cost of living changes. Your relocation consultant will advise you of your eligibility and, if applicable, the amount of your RAA.

RAA payments are provided to assist you in adjusting to overall costs in your new work location. They are not intended to account for lifestyle choices, replicate living in a specific origin community, address only a single type of cost such as housing, or to continue indefinitely. As such, you may personally experience an increase in costs that is higher or lower than your RAA.

Only cost of living data from Chevron's provider will be used in your RAA calculation. The eligibility for and amount of any RAA is based solely on the company-authorized calculation. RAA eligibility determinations and payments are non-negotiable.

If provided, your RAA will be reduced over the three-year payment term:

- Year 1 – 100 percent
- Year 2 – 67 percent
- Year 3 – 33 percent

If you are purchasing a home in your new location, regardless of your home ownership status at origin, you can request your first year's RAA payment in full to assist with your new home purchase down payment. Your relocation consultant will work with you to have your RAA payment sent directly to your home purchase title company. The advance will be based on 60 percent of the first year RAA payment to account for your tax liability.

If you are not purchasing a home in your new work location, your RAA will be paid in your semi-monthly payroll over a period of three years. Once you have selected to receive payroll installments, this decision cannot be changed.

If your first-year total annual payment is less than $5,000, you will receive your RAA as a one-time lump-sum payment upon transfer to your new work location. In subsequent years, you will receive your total annual lump-sum payment on the anniversary of your work location transfer.

If you transfer to a new work location while receiving RAA payments, they will cease. You will not receive any unpaid RAA payments after your transfer date. A new RAA analysis will be completed using your current and new work locations, and a new RAA will be provided to you if indicated by the new location comparison.

Your RAA payments are not benefits bearing and will have taxes withheld from them. If you are placed on an unpaid leave of absence, your RAA payments will pause until you return to active work status.

spouse/ registered domestic partner employment search and family assistance

Chevron provides up to $2,500 of spouse/registered domestic partner employment search and family assistance. The services are initiated by your relocation counselor and billed directly to Chevron.

If your spouse/registered domestic partner chooses to forgo or use only a portion of the formal assistance offered, you're eligible for reimbursement of approved employment search expenses, up to $2,500.

You can use these services in any combination.

Employment search

Chevron's preferred partners offer a variety of job search services including job market information, local contacts, job search strategies, resume development and other support services. Alternatively, your spouse/registered domestic partner can use the benefits to be reimbursed for recertification or relicensing expenses, such as tests and classes, when:

- Your spouse/registered domestic partner is actively employed in the certified or licensed profession on the date you're offered relocation with Chevron.
- The certification or license isn't transferable from your current location to your new location.
- Recertification or relicensing in your new location is obtained.

It isn't the intent of this provision to reimburse your spouse/registered domestic partner for the costs of starting a new business or gaining new skills. Reimbursement is provided to assist with costs incurred by your spouse/registered domestic partner in obtaining needed credentials to gain employment in your new location in licensed professions including, but not limited to, teaching, law, medicine, real estate or accounting. A copy of the certificate or license from your current location, as well as a copy of the certificate or license from your new location, is required for reimbursement. The following are not reimbursed:

- Transportation costs.
- Business start-up expenses such as stationery and business cards.
- Lease cancellation penalties for office space at your current location.
- Fees or expenses for childcare.
- Continuing education classes, seminars or workshops.

Family assistance

A variety of family assistance services are also available. Your counselor will work with you to help develop an assistance plan that best meets your family needs. Services include:

- Needs assessment.
- Where available, accompanied assistance with customized settling-in tasks.
- Customized area information.
- Education assistance services including a general overview of local public and private schools, performance statistics, enrollment procedures, contact information and other information compiled by local education authorities.

If you're a renter and incur lease cancellation penalties on your rental house or apartment, you'll be reimbursed for the equivalent of up to three months' rent. Required deposits or charges such as those for cleaning, pets, damage and security aren't reimbursed. You won't be reimbursed for lost rental incentives such as free rent or rate reductions that were offered when you signed your lease and must now be repaid. In certain circumstances, Chevron may reimburse rent paid in-lieu of lease break penalties, but only when your apartment is vacant and after your transfer date has occurred.

Your lease agreement indicating the amount of the lease cancellation penalty, and verification that a lease cancellation penalty was paid are required for reimbursement.

If you have one or more roommates/housemates who'll continue to occupy your rental house or apartment after your departure, you're ineligible for lease cancellation reimbursement.

home sale program (departure)

Chevron's Home Sale Program provides you professional assistance with marketing and selling your home in your departure work location. Specific procedures must be followed to ensure that both Chevron and you receive favorable tax treatment on company-paid home sale expenses. Eligible home sale expenses paid by Chevron are not added to your income.

You aren't eligible for the Home Sale Program if your home is in foreclosure, your mortgage payments are more than 60 days past due, or you're negotiating a short sale.

Additionally:

- You must accept a real estate agent referral from SIRVA BGRS or select an agent who is knowledgeable about relocation home sales and is willing to accept SIRVA BGRS' listing terms.
- Your home sale must be completed within one year of your payroll transfer date.
- Your homeownership status is determined as of the date you were first notified of your transfer.
- Determination of eligibility for all Home Sale Program benefits is at the sole discretion of Chevron Global Relocation.

Eligible homes

Your home is eligible for all provisions of the Home Sale Program if it meets all qualifications below.

Your home:

- Is your primary residence as identified in Chevron's HR system at the time of your job offer.
- Is a single-family residence, townhome, or condominium.
- Is on a normal lot size which is typical for the area (generally not to exceed five acres). Has clear and marketable title.

- Qualifies for conventional financing and homeowner's insurance coverage(s).

Ineligible homes

Ineligible homes are excluded from the Home Marketing/Buyer and Home Sale Incentives, Home Sale Program and Equity Bridge Loan relocation program benefits. All other home sale benefits are available.

Ineligible homes include, but are not limited to:

- A cooperative (co-op).
- Manufactured/mobile homes, whether on owned or leased lots, or homes without a permanent foundation.
- Homes with acreage exceeding five acres, or acreage that doesn't conform to land use in the immediate area.
- Duplex or properties with two, single-family residential buildings, when one unit is your current primary residence and the other unit is tenant occupied, and both are deeded as one parcel.
- Homes occupied by a tenant with a lease that cannot be terminated with a 60-day notice.
- Homes on which inspections disclose defects which hinder their marketability or where required repairs aren't completed to the satisfaction of SIRVA BGRS.
- Homes with exterior insulating finishing systems that have high levels of moisture.
- Homes containing hazardous materials such as, but not limited to lead, urea formaldehyde foam insulation, asbestos, radon gas, mold, and drywall associated corrosion, such as from Chinese drywall.
- Homes or condominiums that aren't Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA/Fannie Mae) or Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (FHLMC/Freddie Mac) approved.
- Properties to which reasonable access is unavailable (for any reason).
- Homes with common or shared elements that create a potential for future liability.
- Homes with an unfenced swimming pool, pond or other body of water.
- Homes with an abandoned or leaking underground storage tank that hasn't been remediated to Local, State and/or EPA standards.
- Homes determined by SIRVA BGRS or Chevron to be unmarketable due to:
 - Structural damage or requiring major repairs identified by inspection.
 - Liens (including financed or leased solar panels or those with an ongoing obligation to an electric provider) or unmarketable title.
- Unique homes; homes determined by Chevron to present impediments to marketing and sale; and/or homes which are likely to have excessive resale costs.

Excluded homes

Excluded homes, as described below, are ineligible for all Home Selling Services. Excluded homes include, but aren't limited to:

- Manufactured/Mobile Homes on leased lots or not on a permanent foundation.
- Houseboats, Sailboats or other watercraft.
- Multi-family dwelling of three or more units.
- A home that you don't reside in when you receive your new job offer.
- Any residence of which you share title with anyone other than your legal spouse or registered domestic partner.
- A loft that is zoned commercial or commercial/residential or is zoned for any purpose other than residential housing.
- A home owned by an employee in a divorce proceeding; or subject to any terms of a divorce decree; legal separation; or any legal action.
- Second, vacation or resort homes.
- Undeveloped or non-contiguous land parcels.
- Farms, commercial, or income-producing property.
- A home undergoing renovation or construction.

Condominium eligibility

Many lenders apply additional requirements to condominium financing. If your condominium doesn't qualify for conventional financing, you're ineligible for a Guaranteed Buyout Offer, Home Marketing/Buyer Incentive and the Home Sale Incentive portions of the home sale program.

SIRVA BGRS requests financing opinions from Chevron's preferred mortgage lenders based on your completed condominium questionnaire. Chevron Global Relocation uses these lenders' opinions to determine your condominium's eligibility for the Guaranteed Offer program. The eligibility decision cannot be appealed.

Property disclosure

You're required to complete any locally mandated disclosures, as well as SIRVA BGRS' property disclosures. Failure to fully or truthfully complete required disclosure documentation may constitute legal misrepresentation or fraud.

Title report

SIRVA BGRS orders a title report on your home. If the report indicates outstanding legal obligations or other issues, you're responsible for properly clearing title before starting the Home Sale Program. SIRVA BGRS isn't able to execute a Contract of Sale if there are outstanding liens or encumbrances, including any mortgage balance(s) greater than the sale price of your home. You're responsible for providing clear title and, if necessary, paying off mortgage balances exceeding the sale price.

home marketing assistance

The Home Marketing Assistance program provides you with professional assistance in finding a buyer for your home at the highest price and within a reasonable timeframe. Your relocation consultant is your advocate and will guide you through the listing and sale process. You must contact your relocation consultant prior to contacting any real estate brokers or agents to remain eligible for the Home Sale Program.

Approved real estate broker/agent

Your relocation consultant recommends approved real estate brokers that have experience in your location and are knowledgeable about relocation home sales. You can request a broker/agent not referred by SIRVA BGRS, however that broker/agent is required to meet all program requirements, including payment of a referral fee, prior to being approved to provide you with a marketing proposal. "Real estate agent" is used from this point forward to describe the real estate professional who will assist you with selling your home.

Broker market analysis and real estate agent selection

A broker market analysis (BMA) is a written housing market analysis that compares your home to similar recently sold properties in your area, as well as to those currently for sale. You'll select two real estate brokerages from SIRVA BGRS' approved list to prepare your initial BMAs. SIRVA BGRS will place the BMA order with the brokerages. An agent selected from each brokerage will tour your home and note its features along with any repairs or improvements that may be needed to enhance marketability. The real estate agents will complete BMAs, meet with you to discuss their experience and the marketing plan they propose.

Each BMA provides a suggested list price and a most likely sales price. If your initial BMA most likely sales prices are greater than five percent apart, you'll select a third real estate brokerage to complete a BMA. The two closest most likely sales price values are used to determine your BMA average.

Your BMAs are provided to you after they're reviewed for accuracy by your relocation consultant. Your relocation consultant will assist you with evaluation and selection of a real estate agent to list your home for sale.

Marketing plan and property listing

Your relocation consultant will assist you with developing a marketing plan. This may include recommendations of repairs or enhancements, to help generate a sale.

It's important that your home is priced competitively when first listed for sale, since the greatest buyer and agent interest typically occurs within 30 days of listing. Chevron strongly suggests that you list your home for no more than 105 percent of the average of the most likely sales prices in your BMAs. If you don't list within 105 percent of the average, you won't be eligible to receive the Home Marketing/Buyer and Home Sale Incentives.

If you're actively marketing your home for sale on your payroll transfer date, and are currently receiving high-cost housing benefits, you'll continue to receive them for up to five months after your transfer to provide sufficient time for you to sell your home. If you're not actively marketing your home for sale, and are currently receiving high-cost housing benefits, these benefits will cease 30 days after your payroll transfer date.

If you're selling your home as part of an upcoming expatriate assignment, you cannot list your property until all visas, required work permits, and medical clearances are obtained.

Exclusion Clause

To avoid incurring a commission or other charges from your real estate agent, you must include an exclusion clause in your listing agreement. Your relocation consultant will provide your realtor with the exclusion clause. Ensure the exclusion clause is included in your listing agreement prior to signing.

home sale program

There are three ways your home may be sold if it meets program eligibility requirements:

- Buyer Value Option (BVO): A company offer to purchase your home based upon the terms and conditions in an acceptable purchase offer made by a buyer secured by your listing agent.
- Guaranteed Buyout Offer (GBO): A company offer to purchase your home based upon the average of two relocation appraisals.
- Amended Value (AV): A company offer to purchase your home based upon the terms and conditions in an acceptable purchase offer made by a buyer secured by your listing agent. An amended value sale occurs after you've received your GBO.

The Chevron Home Sale Program is income tax compliant and allows for qualified home sale expenses to be excluded from your income.

Buyer value option (BVO) sale

If you're presented an acceptable purchase offer prior to receiving a company Guaranteed Buyout Offer, you must submit it to your relocation consultant. The price, terms, and conditions of the offer are evaluated, and the buyer's financial qualifications are reviewed.

Don't sign any counter offers or the purchase contract. You shouldn't accept a deposit or down payment. Your relocation consultant will execute the contract of sale and purchase your home from you using a separate contract with the same price, terms and conditions as those negotiated with the buyer.

The following conditions apply:

- Only non-recurring normal and customary seller's closing costs are paid by Chevron. This includes the real estate commission that is typical for the area (not to exceed seven percent).
- Any concessions you negotiate with the buyer are deducted from your equity.
- You're responsible for the cost of all repairs identified as a result of inspections completed on your home. See the "Property Inspection" section below for further details.

Offers below 95 percent of the most probable sales price established by your BMA must be reviewed by SIRVA BGRS and approved by Chevron Global Relocation.

Guaranteed buyout offer

If you're unable to secure a buyer, you may be provided with an appraised value Guaranteed Buyout Offer (GBO) from SIRVA BGRS. SIRVA BGRS is not obligated to purchase your home. Only Chevron Global Relocation and SIRVA BGRS will determine if your home qualifies for the GBO.

The GBO program uses two independent relocation appraisals to establish the most probable sale price of your home. To remain eligible to accept your GBO:

- Adjust your list price, if necessary, to no more than 107 percent of the GBO.
- After 30 days adjust your list price, if necessary, to no more than 105 percent of your GBO.
- Continue to market your home for a minimum of 30 days after you've received your GBO.
- Market your home for a minimum total of 60 days prior to accepting your GBO.
- Advise your relocation consultant of all purchase offers.
- Allow inspection of your home and complete any required repairs.

Appraisals and determination of GBO

SIRVA BGRS provides you the names of approved local independent relocation appraisers. You'll choose two from the list plus an alternate to be used if a third appraisal is needed. SIRVA BGRS will order the appraisals upon your request and in conjunction with the program timeline. It is recommended that you market your home for sale for a minimum of 30 days prior to starting the appraisal process. You're encouraged to work with your real estate agent to complete the Pre-Appraisal Property Information form which will be provided to your appraisers by your relocation consultant. This form allows you to provide information about your property that you want the appraisers to consider.

Relocation appraisers estimate the value of your home by comparing it to similar properties that have recently sold, and forecast the anticipated sales price based on competing listings and other market factors. Your appraisers will visit your home to assist them in establishing their appraised value. This is a value at which they expect your home to sell, assuming a marketing period of not more than 120 days. An appraisal is an estimate and opinion of value and does not necessarily reflect the highest possible selling price for your property. Relocation appraisals adjust for market conditions and use criteria different from those used in mortgage or other types of appraisals.

If your two appraisals are within a five percent of one another, the appraisals are averaged to establish your GBO. If the lower appraisal varies by more than five percent of the higher, a third appraisal is ordered, and the two closest appraisals are averaged to determine your GBO.

Inspections and repairs

SIRVA BGRS will complete a relocation home inspection, as well as other inspections in accordance with local custom. Additional inspections may be completed based on information or recommendation from real estate agents, appraisers or others.

All inspections, as required by law, are disclosed to any purchaser.

You're required to remedy issues discovered in your inspections. You can satisfy this requirement by having repairs completed or having the cost of repairs deducted from your equity. For repairs totaling less than $500, one bid is required, while repairs totaling more than $500 require two bids. Your relocation consultant will give you further guidance on inspections and repairs.

If you choose not to complete required repairs, your home is then ineligible for the GBO Home Sale Program. Homes needing extensive repairs are subject to a program eligibility review and possible exclusion from the company Guaranteed Buyout Offer portion of the Home Sale Program. In this case, you may be eligible for direct reimbursement of allowable home sale expenses. In addition to the inspections obtained by SIRVA BGRS, buyers will typically obtain their own inspections of your home and you may be responsible for completing requested repairs.

GBO acceptance

Your GBO is valid for 90 days after it is made. After 90 days, it will expire and you won't be provided with another. If you accept your GBO, SIRVA BGRS becomes responsible for marketing and selling your home.

Amended value sale

If you receive an offer to purchase your home after you have your GBO, contact your relocation consultant for assistance negotiating the terms of sale. Your consultant will evaluate the offer to ensure that it is:

- A valid purchase offer from a qualified buyer.
- Not contingent on the sale of the buyer's home.
- Scheduled to close within 60 days from the date of contract.

Your relocation consultant will amend your original GBO to reflect the new purchase price. A contract of sale between SIRVA BGRS and you will be prepared using the same terms and conditions as in the purchase offer. After you sign and return the contract of sale, your relocation consultant will execute the buyer's purchase offer. SIRVA BGRS will complete the sale to the buyer. Your relocation consultant will guide you through any additional requirements.

If the sale doesn't close after SIRVA BGRS has executed the contract of sale and acquired your home, they're responsible for its marketing and sale. You won't be responsible for any future potential loss on resale, nor will you receive any potential gains from a subsequent sale. If SIRVA BGRS hasn't acquired your home yet, you'll be responsible for continuing to market it for sale.

Sale below the guaranteed buyout offer

You may list and sell your home within a net sales price of 95 percent of your GBO. Your relocation consultant must review and approve any purchase offer. Your sale to SIRVA BGRS is based upon your GBO.

In some instances, you may consider accepting an offer below 95 percent of your GBO. In such cases, Chevron's Global Relocation Manager will make the final determination. If the buyer's offer is accepted, you will not qualify for the home sale incentive, but you'll receive your full GBO sale price.

Closing and vacating

Once you've accepted your GBO, you have 30 days to vacate your home. If your home has been sold in either an amended or BVO sale, you must vacate the home no less than two days prior to closing.

You're responsible for maintaining your home and all associated costs until the latter of your vacate date or the full execution of a contract of sale. This includes payment of your mortgage, property taxes, association fees, utilities, maintenance and upkeep as well as for the repair of any issue that may arise after the contract is executed and inspections were completed.

You'll receive your final equity approximately five business days after the latter of your vacate date or a fully executed contract of sale.

home sale incentive programs

Chevron offers two incentive programs to help you effectively market and sell your home.

Home marketing/buyer incentive

If your home qualifies for a GBO, you're eligible to receive a marketing/buyer incentive of up to one percent of the average most probable sales price. You can use this incentive in one of the following two ways:

- To complete cosmetic enhancements on your home, such as painting, carpeting, minor landscaping and cleaning as part your marketing strategy.
 - All cosmetic improvements must be pre-approved by your relocation consultant and be consistent with suggestions made by your real estate agent.
 - Receipts and proof of payment are required for reimbursement. Cash receipts will not be accepted.
- To pay for a buyer's closing costs which cover up to one percent of the net purchase price your home. To be eligible you must advertise this incentive in the Multiple Listing Service (MLS).

If you select the Home Marketing Incentive, it is calculated as follows:

- If you haven't received your GBO, the incentive is based on the average of the two closest BMA's Most Likely Sales Prices.
- If you've received your GBO, your incentive is based upon the lower of your GBO amount or the net sales price.

Once provided, the incentive amount won't be adjusted. The incentive cannot be used to correct deferred maintenance or repairs of any kind, including repairs requested by a buyer or a credit to the buyer in lieu of repairs.

The Home Marketing/Buyer Incentive is taxable income and all applicable Federal taxes are withheld. If you are moving to a state with an income tax, Chevron will provide tax assistance for your state tax.

Home sale incentive

To encourage you to market your home and consider all reasonable offers, Chevron provides a Home Sale Incentive of two percent of the net sale price of your home for an acceptable sale.

The following provisions apply:

- Your home must qualify for the GBO to be eligible for this benefit.
- If you accept your GBO, you aren't eligible for this incentive.
- Your home sale transaction must close within one year of your payroll transfer date.
- Your net sales price must be 95 percent or more than the average of the two closest BMAs or GBO.
- The one percent marketing incentive is included in the calculation of net sales price.

The Home Sale Incentive is taxable income and all applicable Federal taxes are withheld. If you're moving to a state with an income tax, Chevron will provide tax assistance for your state income tax.

self-close direct reimbursement

You may be eligible for direct reimbursement of eligible home sale closing costs. In this circumstance, you'll close the sale of your home directly with a purchaser and be reimbursed for your eligible closing costs as outlined below. Reimbursable expenses may vary by location. If you self-close, you won't qualify for the home marketing or home sale incentives.

Reimbursable Expenses
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Document recording fees.• Federal, state, and local transfer taxes.• Real estate commission (not to exceed seven percent).• Reasonable attorney fees for the preparation of sale documents.• Seller paid title insurance premiums, abstract fees, escrow fees, and inspections.• Reasonable notary fees.
Non-Reimbursable Expenses
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Attorney fees to clear title.• Homeowner's insurance premiums.• Ongoing home ownership costs such as mortgage payments and real estate taxes.• Penalty fees charged by the lender for pre-payment of your mortgage.• Repairs and improvements.• Seller concessions: buyer incentives or buyer closing costs.• Home selling expenses deemed non-reimbursable by your relocation consultant or Chevron.

The following provisions also apply:

- Reimbursement of closing costs on homes with lot sizes not typical for the area or property that has a dual-use purpose are prorated on the percentage of total value that your residence and a typical lot size, generally not greater than one acre, represents to the total sale price.
- You're required to submit a copy of your executed home sale closing document to request reimbursement.

Direct reimbursement of home closing costs is taxable income; however:

- If you're directed by your relocation consultant to self-close, your reimbursement is generally tax assisted. Your relocation consultant will advise you if no tax assistance will be provided.
- If you choose to self-close without being directed by your relocation consultant, your reimbursement is paid less all applicable taxes.

loss on sale

You may be eligible for Loss on Sale (LOS) if your home sale price is lower than the original purchase price you paid; less any concessions that reduced your net purchase price, as indicated on your original home purchase closing document.

Your contribution

Five percent of loss in the value of your home is your responsibility. Chevron's Loss on Sale assistance reimburses the remaining 95 percent of loss; up to the program maximums. For each dollar of eligible loss on sale, you are responsible for $.05, and Chevron will reimburse you with the remaining $.95.

Loss on sale maximums

The maximum amount of LOS protection provided by Chevron is determined by the home sale benefit that you use. The maximum Chevron LOS payments are:

- $150,000 if you accept your GBO.
- $200,000 if you sell your home through a BVO, AV, or self-close transaction; if your home sold for at least 95 percent of your BMA average most probable sale price or 95 percent of your GBO.

Loss on sale advance

If you purchase a home in your new work location prior to selling your current home, you can request a LOS advance be applied to your down payment on your new home. Your home must be acquired by SIRVA BGRS before an advance can be provided. If needed, you should request a LOS advance through your relocation consultant. LOS advances aren't provided for self-close transactions.

equity advance and equity bridge loan

In some situations, you may need the equity from your current primary residence to purchase a new primary residence. If your home has been acquired by SIRVA BGRS you can request an equity advance; if it hasn't, you can request an equity bridge loan.

Estimating your equity

Equity in your current home is based on one of the following:

- Equity Advance: Your accepted purchase contract amount or accepted Guaranteed Buyout Offer (if issued).
- Equity Bridge Loan: The average of the Most Likely Sales Price from your BMAs. When using this basis for your equity calculation your relocation consultant may recommend using the lowest BMA most probable sale price to help limit possible out of pocket repayment risk.

From this amount, the following is deducted:

1. Encumbrances (liabilities attached to your property).
2. Estimated proration of future mortgage interest, taxes, homeowner dues, etc.
3. Repair costs, if known.

Equity advance

Once your home is acquired by SIRVA BGRS you can request an advance of up to 95 percent of your equity for closing on your home in your new work location. A copy of your new home purchase contract or the Loan Estimate from your lender is required.

Equity bridge loan

If your home hasn't been acquired by SIRVA BGRS and you qualify for the Home Sale Program, Chevron provides a short-term Bridge Loan through Chevron Federal Credit Union (CFCU) of up to 85 percent of your estimated equity in your current home. Your home must be actively listed for sale to be eligible to receive a Bridge Loan.

You're required to sign a Bridge Loan Acknowledgement which includes your obligation to repay your bridge loan; even if the value of your current home is less than expected or doesn't sell. You must repay your full Bridge Loan amount upon demand.

Along with your completed Bridge Loan application you must provide a fully executed new home purchase agreement, and the following documentation:

- Documentation of your mortgage loan balance and any other liens or debts against your property including second mortgages or equity lines of credit.
- If you do not have a mortgage, a title report showing unencumbered ownership.
- If you have a home equity loan, it must be frozen or discharged to prevent further borrowing.

The following provisions apply:

- You must be a member of CFCU.
- The minimum bridge loan amount is $5,000.
- The maximum bridge loan amount is 85 percent of the lesser of the equity in your current home or the amount needed to cover the balance of your home purchase down payment; not to exceed $500,000.
- The bridge loan is for your down payment only and doesn't include funds for your earnest money deposit or home purchase closing costs.
- You should submit your bridge loan documentation to your relocation consultant at least three weeks prior to the scheduled closing on your new home.
- Your bridge loan term is 90 days.
- You're responsible for any penalties incurred if your bridge loan exceeds the 90-day term.
- Your bridge loan is paid off from your available equity at the time of property acquisition by SIRVA BGRS.
- You must repay your bridge loan and any accrued interest on the first banking day after you receive your equity from the sale of your previous primary residence.
- CFCU will wire your funds directly to the title or escrow company handling your closing.
- Chevron will reimburse you for the first 45 days of interest on your bridge loan after payoff.

home retention allowance

If you decide to retain your current home when you relocate to your new work location, Chevron will provide you with a one-time payment of seven percent of its estimated value. You're not required to provide documentation or receipts of how you use your Home Retention Allowance (HRA).

The following provisions apply:

- The HRA is provided in lieu of all other Home Selling Services and benefits.
- The minimum HRA payment is $13,500.
- Homes excluded from the Home Sale Program are also ineligible for the HRA.
- Your HRA value is based on either of 1) one appraisal obtained by SIRVA BGRS (if your Guaranteed Offer hasn't been made), or 2) your Guaranteed Buyout Offer amount.
- You must document that you're current on all lender and tax obligations.
- If you're transferred back to your previous work location within three years, home purchase assistance is not provided.
- If you reoccupy this home as your primary residence and are subsequently transferred by the company with relocation benefits in the future, you'll be eligible for the Home Sale Program or the HRA at that time.

- If you're currently receiving High Cost Housing Benefits, they'll cease upon your payroll transfer date.
- If your current primary residence is at a Personal Choice Location (PCL) associated with a current or previous rotational assignment, the HRA isn't provided in-lieu of home-sale benefits.

Your HRA is taxable income and all applicable taxes are withheld.

In limited locations where it's customary for the buyer to pay for owner's title insurance, Chevron will provide for it. New home builders may pass costs that are typically paid by a seller to a buyer in the new home purchase agreement. Chevron won't pay for these customarily seller paid expenses. Examples include but aren't limited to owner's title insurance and transfer taxes. An independent appraisal is only reimbursed when you're paying cash for a home or you're not receiving your mortgage loan from an institutional lender. It must be completed by a licensed professional appraiser and provided to SIRVA BGRS.

Mortgage Discount Points

Chevron will pay or reimburse discount points on a sliding scale, based on the Fannie Mae (FNMA) 60-day yield for a 30-year fixed rate mortgage on the date you lock your mortgage interest rate, as confirmed by your lender:

6.99% or lower = 0 points
7.00% - 7.99% = 2 points
8.00% - 8.99% = 2.5 points
9.00% or higher = 3 points

Home purchase inspections

Chevron will reimburse inspections or surveys required by your lender and/or recommended by your relocation consultant.

If your new home purchase inspection or survey exposes any problems with the home, you should reconsider purchasing the property. If you complete the home purchase, and relocate in the future, your home sale benefit eligibility may be at risk.

duplicate housing assistance

Once you've used your company-provided 30-days of temporary housing, you may be provided up to 90 days of Duplicate Housing Assistance. You're eligible for Duplicate Housing Assistance if you've purchased or are renting a new home and haven't sold your home in your previous work location yet. Duplicate Housing Assistance includes:

Duplicate housing costs

- Homeowner's association fees/dues.
- Homeowner's property insurance.
- Mortgage interest (primary mortgage only).
- Property taxes.
- Basic utilities, such as water and electric, needed to maintain your home.

Your home in your prior work location must be ready to be sold and actively listed for sale, at a reasonable asking price as defined in the Home Sale Program section. Your home cannot be rented, available for rent or occupied by anyone other than your immediate family.

- When you submit for reimbursement of duplicate housing expenses, the following documentation is required:
 - A copy of your closing statement or lease for your home in your new location.
 - Your mortgage statement for your home in your prior work location, including the interest and principal portions of your mortgage payment.
 - Property insurance and tax statement/receipts for your home in your prior work location.

Return trips

After the end of your 30 days of temporary housing, a maximum of two return trips, one per each 30 days, are reimbursable if your home in your prior work location is listed for sale but is unsold. This doesn't apply to employees relocating to or from non-U.S. work locations.

Reimbursed duplicate housing expenses and return trips are taxable income and are tax assisted at time of payment. Mortgage Interest and property tax reimbursement can be claimed as an itemized deduction on your personal income tax filing. Adjustment to your duplicate housing tax assistance will be made in the year-end tax true-up.

tax assistance

U.S. employees relocating domestically receive tax assistance as described in this program guide. If you're included in the Expatriate Tax Equalization program during any portion of the calendar year, your tax assistance is managed through that program. Please consult your Chevron Global Mobility Expatriate Counselor for more details.

Tax assistance (gross-up)

Chevron provides tax assistance, except when noted in this program guide, for the estimated Federal and destination State income taxes on your relocation benefits. Supplemental income tax withholding rates are used to calculate your tax assistance. Payments are remitted directly to the appropriate taxing authority and reported as withheld taxes on your W-2 Wage and Tax Statement.

Tax true-up and year-end expense freeze and tax adjustment

Your tax true-up is completed in November to ensure that you've received the appropriate tax assistance on your taxable relocation expenses. Necessary adjustments are usually made on your second paycheck in December.

Starting with the second payroll in November Chevron suspends relocation expense payments to facilitate the tax true-up process.

The tax assistance you receive from Chevron may not equal the taxes you incur. Your MEA can be used to assist with any tax assistance shortfall.

The year-end tax true-up process includes:

1. Your Federal and State tax liability, excluding relocation expenses, is estimated using:
 - a. Your Chevron sourced income.
 - b. Statistical itemized deductions, or your standard deduction if you're unable to itemize.
 - c. Your expected tax return filing status.
2. Your Federal and State tax liability is re-estimated including your taxable relocation expenses during the year.
3. The tax assistance you received throughout the year is compared to your anticipated actual tax liability.

- a. If additional tax-assistance is necessary, Chevron will make necessary payments directly to the appropriate tax agencies.
 - b. If tax-assistance was overpaid, Chevron will reverse the tax overpayment from the applicable tax category and make the appropriate adjustments to amounts deposited on your behalf.
 - c. Your final December paycheck will reflect any adjustments made.
4. In January, you'll receive a relocation payment and tax statement from SIRVA BGRS to assist you in preparing your taxes.

Chevron sourced income

Chevron sourced income includes:

- Regular earnings.
- Supplemental earnings.
- Applicable relocation expense reimbursements.

Chevron sourced income is reported on your Chevron W-2, and includes the income of your spouse, only if he or she is employed by Chevron. Chevron sourced income is the basis for your Federal and, where applicable, state tax true-up assistance. Chevron sourced income doesn't include income from any other sources that you may have received during the year.

Statistical itemized deductions

Your tax assistance is determined using a combination of a statistical itemized deduction amount based upon your Chevron sourced income the deductible portion of your relocation expenses, and your estimated state taxes. If itemized deductions cannot be used, then your tax assistance is based upon the applicable standard IRS deduction.

Social security tax

Unless you've already reached the Social Security tax withholding maximum, Chevron is required to withhold Social Security Tax on taxable relocation payments (<http://www.ssa.gov/OACT/COLA/cbb.html>). If you haven't met the Social Security maximum withholding cap for employee contributions at the time a payment is made to you, or on your behalf, Chevron will provide tax assistance to minimize your out-of-pocket tax withholding. Chevron-paid Social Security tax assistance for employee contributions will be recaptured from your Federal income tax withholding during the year-end tax true-up.

Tax consultation assistance

To assist you with understanding the implications of your relocation on your income taxes, Chevron provides one hour of professional tax consulting assistance. Tax consulting assistance is authorized in January following the year of your relocation, or a year in which you had relocation expenses, excluding ongoing high cost housing benefits.

Updating your personal information

To avoid possible withholding of multiple or incorrect state income taxes from your paycheck it is important that you update your home address information as soon as possible after relocating. Your new state's withholding, if applicable, will begin as soon as you report to work in your new location, even if you continue to be a resident of your departure state.

"If you're currently enrolled in Chevron health plans, the plans available to you may change if your zip code changes. For this reason, update your permanent address on Benefits Connection or by calling the HR Service Center within 31 days of your relocation effective date. If your current plans are no longer available in your new zip code, you'll have the opportunity to update your plan choices. All updates must be made within 31 days of your relocation effective date. If you're eligible to make changes to your health plans and other benefits, please note there are limitations to the kind of changes you can make due to a relocation. For example, if you and/or an eligible dependent are not currently participating in Chevron health plans, relocation isn't an event that allows you to start participating. If a change to your health plans and other benefits is not permitted, you generally must wait until the next open enrollment period, typically held each fall, or a different qualifying life event to enroll or make other changes to your benefits. You can model the health plan choices and benefit changes available under your new zip code on the Benefits Connection website. You can also call the HR Service Center to discuss your personal situation in more detail."

Relocation to a new work location may be a qualifying event for Chevron health and insurance benefits. For further information contact the Human Resources Service Center.
